PITTSBURGH DISTRICT MINERS.

The Cleveland Coal Company Fixes a Fifty-nine Cent Rate.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21.—It is learned from W. P. Dearmitt, president of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, that he has made a contract with his miners for one year from Nov. 6, whereby he agrees to pay them fifty-nine cents per ton. This is an increase of nine cents per ton for his men, but still falls five cents short of the present rate. At the last conference between the operators and miners it was agreed that whatever rate the New York and Cleveland Coal company adopted in December should be the prevailing rate for the district. As the miners fully expected that the rate would be made sixty-nine cents or more it remains to be seen whether or not the resolution will be carried out. Operators and miners will confer next Tuesday, and the miners have called a convention for Monday.

Terrible Explosion of Dynamite.

WELLINGTON, Pa., Nov. 21.—By an explosion of dynamite cartridges laid yesterday afternoon Frank A. Johnson, proprietor of the marble and granite works of this borough, and his father-in-law, Mr. Raymond, who is 75 years old, received injuries which will cause their death. The two men were in a shanty in the marble yard, warming the cartridges over a stove. The explosion blew the building to splinters and threw the men some distance. Johnson's left arm was blown off below the elbow, and his face, head and neck terribly lacerated. Raymond was badly bruised by flying splinters, lost the sight of both eyes, and sustained other injuries.

Mrs. Elwyn Sent to Jail.

PREVAILING, Pa., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Mary Ellen Elwyn, whose infidelity to her husband caused him to murder his two children, according to his own statement, was yesterday held for trial on the charge of adultery, and in default of $500 bail was sent to jail. Elwyn, just before attempting suicide, wrote a letter to a local justice of the peace, in which he gives the details of several robberies which have occurred here within the past two years, and which baffled the local police officials. The letter implicates Elwyn and several other men in the town, against whom proceedings will be begun at once.

Suicide of a Young Bride.

CALDWELL, O., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Rosa Webb, nee Foster, residing near Olive Green, a bride of only five days, committed suicide by taking arsenic. She was married to William Webb last Friday night, but the marriage was bitterly opposed by the bride's parents. A family disturbance arose, resulting in Mrs. Webb taking the poisonous drug Sunday night.

Missing Postmaster Heard From.

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 21.—Frank Devine, the Atlantic City postmaster, who disappeared early in the week, and against whom charges of forgery have been made, has been heard from. He shipped from Philadelphia and wrote that he would write again when a port was reached. Two notes which he had passed on the Union National bank, with a check for $200,000, were returned to him on Saturday in a justice's court here. The bank brought action against the holder, who with a check called upon to produce Devine or pay the money.

Abnail's King Will Yield.

LEXINGTON, Nov. 21.—Lord St. Albans and Mr. Sutherland, as intermediaries on behalf of the Ashanti envoys, visited Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, and promised that the British demand relative to having a resident at Kumasi and the other demands contained in the ultimatum to King Pampuch shall be satisfied. The king will also pay the cost of the present preparations for sending an expedition against him. Mr. Chamberlain guaranteed that no troops would be sent to Ashanti if King Pampuch induces the above terms.

Charged with Killing His Father.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Valois, of Saundersville, was arrested last evening for the murder of her father, John V. Roessler, on Oct. 21 last. Mrs. Roessler and her daughter Mrs. Valois informed the authorities that Roessler had been found dead in bed with a bullet hole in his head, and that he had committed suicide. At the inquest yesterday it was shown by the nature of the wound in Roessler's head he could not have committed suicide. The authorities say Mrs. Valois has committed herself in private.

Teller Rites' Shootings.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—The investigation into the accounts of the missing Charles J. Rite, who was paying teller of Tacony Saving Fund, Kate Bennett, Title and Trust company, has disclosed the fact that he was a defaulter. So far as is disclosed the amount taken has not exceeded $1,500, but as the investigation proceeds it will probably reach a greater amount. Public opinion at Tacony is divided as to whether Rite committed suicide or is now seeking himself about the city.

SHERMAN AND HIS BOOK

The Ohio Senator Talks of His Published Statements.

WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM PLATT

The Answer of the New York Leader to His Statements Would Interest the Statesman—Author—He Declares That He "Simply Wrote History."

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Senator John Sherman talked freely to a reporter yesterday in regard to his recently published book and other matters. "I would like to read Mr. Platt's answer to what I stated concerning the national convention of 1888," he said in reply to a question. "The fact is, I desire to know just what his explanation would be. I have nothing against him, and what I stated in my book was without malice, and merely introduced as a matter of history. I think that in the history of history I should tell things as they were, and in a dispassionate way."

"Have you seen Mr. Platt since you arrived?"

"I saw him at a distance only." "The senator stated that he had met ex-President Harrison and Warner Miller, and had had pleasant chats with them. He added that Mr. Miller came to his (the senator's) room, and they talked over many of the incidents of the convention of 1888. Mr. Miller's recollection of events tallied with the senator's."

"The New York delegation," added the senator, "had a banquet on the Saturday night before the convention of 1888, and after Senator Miller had made a speech they all agreed to support me. I received a telegram to that effect. Sunday morning, when the meeting of the cabinet and other friends of Harrison got Mr. Platt to come to vote for him on the first ballot on Monday. The result is known."

"I have no charges to make against ex-President Harrison, and our relations are pleasant. Whatever bargains or promises his friends might have made he did not sanction them, because he absolutely refused to appoint Mr. Platt secretary of the treasury. Promises may have been made in regard to federal patronage in this state, and I do not criticize that specially. Mr. Platt's men, I believe, received appointments in the state, notably the collectorship. The name of Mr. Platt's ambition seems to be to hold the portfolio of secretary of the treasury."

In regard to the national convention of 1888, when Garfield was nominated, he said that when he saw the drift was for Garfield he telegraphed to his friends to swing the Ohio delegation for him. "Garfield was an able and brilliant man in some respects," he continued, "but he did not have strong will power. He permitted men of stronger will power to influence him. I well remember that after he was elected president, and had selected Mr. Blaine as secretary of state, he came to me and said that he would like to appoint me secretary of the treasury, but Mr. Blaine thought it would be embarrassing to the other members of Mr. Hayes' cabinet to have one member and not take them all."

The senator laughed at the supposition of Mr. Garfield, and continued: "I informed him that I did not desire to be appointed secretary of the treasury, and announced my intention to become a candidate for the senate. This announcement was a great surprise to him and his friends, because they had all arranged to run ex-Governor Charles Foster for the senate. But I would not have accepted the treasury appointment even if I had not been a candidate for the senate. There was no great coldness existing between Garfield and myself, because I remember I wrote to him in reply to a letter, advising him to appoint Mr. William Brewster of the treasury, which he did."

"Did you hear that General Alger intended to answer you?" "No, sir, I do not believe he has read my book yet."

"He will answer that part which refers to the buying of delegates at the convention in 1888."

"I shall be glad to read his answer. My relations with General Alger have been pleasant. I simply wrote history. It was his agent, who acted for him, that I charged with doing the work."

The senator said as considered Warner Miller a strong man, and remarked that he had made an able senator. He then turned his attention to Secretary Chandler's speech. The basic error of the speech, he maintained, was the secretary's idea that legal tender could be done away with entirely. "I could not be done," he said in conclusion.

"The great mistake was in the way the Democratic administration had tampered with the gold reserve. It should have issued short bonds of five years' duration, which the people here would have taken up quickly at 3 per cent., and with this paid the expenses of the government, instead of treading on the gold reserve. These short bonds, of course, would have been paid for in legal tender notes. Instead of doing this the administration had permitted domestic and foreign bankers to clear $11,000,000 by selling bonds for gold at 1 per cent. Garfield's plan proposed last night was impracticable. There are 3,000 national banks, and it would not do in order to have currency to take the gold out of the United States treasury and scatter it around in these banks to redeem bonds that had been issued by these banks."

The senator said he did not know when the Republicans would be able to organize the senate. When it came to an issue in regard to money he thought the east would be against the west, irrespective of party. As long as Cleveland was president there would be no silver legislation, because he favored sound money.

A Juvenile Indiana Murderer.

ESSEX, Ind., Nov. 21.—Alvin Thomas, 13 years old, killed his brother, two years younger, and committed suicide. The murder was caused by William, the younger brother, reporting Alvin for playing truant.

FRANCE MAY RELEASE WALLER.

Talk of Amnesty for Political Offenders in Madagascar.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Although the state department absolutely refuses to confirm or deny a report that the French government had refused to furnish the record in the Waller case, some difficulties, it is known, have been encountered in procuring this indispensable document. Just what the nature of the trouble is cannot be learned, but it is understood that the application for the record is not regarded by the French government as a matter of right, and it is assumed that if our application takes more the shape of a request than a demand the necessary documents may be forthcoming.

Meanwhile the Waller case itself may be suddenly settled, so far as the liberation of Waller is concerned, by the voluntary action of the French government, as word has come here from official sources to the effect that it is contemplated to proclaim amnesty for all political prisoners taken in Madagascar, which would include Waller, unless some special notice be taken of his case and claim.

Indiana Republicans for Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The Republican meeting yesterday was the largest ever held by the leaders of the party in this state in an off year. With the understanding that Harrison is a presidential candidate, and the expectation that he will be the nominee, there is a horde of candidates for the several positions. Nineteen candidates for governor head the list. The fight for the state chairmanship is between J. E. Gowdy, the present chairman, and E. H. Nebecker, who was United States treasurer under Harrison. Colonel Dick Thompson, of Terre Haute, 87 years old, and secretary of the navy under Hayes, presided. He has announced that he will be a candidate for delegate at large next year, and it alive will be elected.

Baltimore's Republican Mayor.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—Alleging Hooper, the first Republican mayor of Baltimore for thirty years, was inaugurated yesterday. The ceremony of administering the oath was performed in the presence of a large crowd, who applauded addresses by Hooper and outgoing executives. Immediately after the inauguration Mayor Hooper announced the following appointments: Mayor's secretary, Clarence H. Forrester; mayor's clerk, Albert N. Palmer; messenger, Philip G. Ward. Messrs. Forrester and Ward are Republicans, but Mr. Palmer is a Democrat.

Convicted Smugglers May be Released.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 21.—It is reported that there is likelihood of executive clemency being extended to the smuggling offenders now in the penitentiary, and that their release may be looked for inside of the next forty-eight hours. The board of clemency has recommended their release upon the payment of a fine, and the minister is now considering what action shall be taken, but it is almost certain that this request will be complied with.

Triple Tragedy in Oregon.

BROWN'S VALLEY, Ore., Nov. 21.—John Montgomery, his wife, and D. B. McKeon, a neighbor, were found dead on the farm of Brown's valley, three miles east of here. All three of the victims had been shot with a .45 and the wounds were escaped. No motive is known as to the crime. From their positions it seems evidently flying from the premises. It is thought here is interest, and it is not known as to whether the victims were shot or had been on the premises at the time the tragedy was committed.

Evidence of a French Crime.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—While a party of St. Louis lawyers were looking for some yesterday afternoon on the docks, they discovered the remains of a man who had been in the water. It is supposed that the man was outraged and murdered. Great excitement prevails.

Swedish Resigns and Is Re-elected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The possibility of the Kingdom of Liberia getting a steady work rather than a national general election, growing out of some very much criticism passed upon various level assemblies by the general officers. Assembly of St. John's, Liberia, constituted with charges of general mismanagement against General Master Workman Serrano, who upon the 1st resigned. But the great majority of the delegates sided with Serrano, and after a heated debate he was triumphantly re-elected.

The Winter Blast.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The cold wave that has been general throughout the west and northwest for the past thirty-six hours, reached here last night. At the weather bureau at 11 o'clock it was said that there had been a drop in the temperature from 39 days at noon, to 32 degrees, freezing point, accompanied by a forty mile breeze from the northwest. At 1 o'clock it was snowing at Buffalo, Montreal, Oswego, Albany and Rochester, while it was raining at Boston and Portland.

Schooner Sunk and Six Drowned.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 21.—The schooner Servant, of Key West, founded in the gulf yesterday off St. Martin's Key, and six of the crew, all colored, were lost. Those lost were Jeremiah Saunders, George Abney, Bolter Butler, Joe Lavary, Walton Knowles and George Stewart. The disaster occurred about 12 o'clock Tuesday night, during a strong gale. The eight remaining members of the crew took a small boat and were rescued four hours later.

A Notorious Outlaw Killed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 21.—Frank Hoffman, the notorious outlaw who has long defied the authorities, was killed by Sheriff Moore, of Hickory county, thirty miles northwest of here. Hoffman was leader of the Ottaville train robbery on the Missouri Pacific railroad, and broke jail in Howard county eight months ago. Since then he has been hiding in the hills of Hickory and Cedar counties.

A POSTOFFICE LOOTED.

The Town of Summit, N. J., Visited by Burglars.

SAFELY DOWN OPEN WITH DYNAMITE

The Robbers Secured Five Thousand Dollars in Stamps and Two Thousand in Cash, and Escaped Without Leaving a Clue to Their Identity.

SUMMIT, N. J., Nov. 21.—Burglars broke into the postoffice here at 3 o'clock in the morning, blew open the safe with dynamite, stole $5,000 in postage stamps and $2,000 in cash, and got away with their booty without being seen or leaving behind them any clue that would serve to aid in their capture.

The robbery was discovered at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Bridget Lane, the postmistress, when she opened the office to start out this morning mail. No mail matter was disturbed, but the only thing left in the safe was a money order for $50 and seven registered letters that the explosion blew out of reach.

The burglars left behind them the bit and brace which had been used for drilling the door of the safe and also a stout cord which had been tied to the safe and sprung along the wall through the collar in the sidewalk, evidently having been intended as a signal cord by which a man, who probably watched outside, could have communicated with the burglar who opened the safe.

There are only two policemen on duty at night in Summit. One of them, John Stewart, was standing at the railroad station, about 300 yards away, when he heard the explosion, but he paid no attention to it. Chief of Police Kelly has but small hopes of catching the thieves.

About a fortnight ago Mrs. Lane was notified by the postoffice department that she must not deposit any moneys belonging to the government in a state bank. There is no national bank in Summit, and therefore Mrs. Lane drew the postal funds out of the savings bank and put them in the safe in the postoffice. Mrs. Lane will be obliged to stand the entire loss caused by the robbery, unless congress shall pass a special act reimbursing her.

Firemen Sign the Articles.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 21.—Dan A. Stuart returned from El Paso yesterday with Fitzsimmons' signature to the articles of agreement for a fight with Corbett. He leaves for New York today or tomorrow, and he is confident of securing Corbett's signature. Stuart says there will be no further legal complications, and that the fight can certainly be pulled off. He would not say where the battle ground was located, but said: "I all who wish to see the fight will be in El Paso on the morning of the fight, which will be announced later; they will have the opportunity."

Another Trained Employee Goes Wrong.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Daniel H. Brenner, secretary and treasurer of the Citizens' Trust and Savings company, at No. 408 Chestnut street, has been missing since Thursday of last week. Simultaneously $25,000 worth of the company's securities have disappeared. Brenner's downfall is attributed to speculation in stocks. He had been married only a month, and his young wife is heart broken. Brenner had been in the employ of the company since its formation in 1885, and thoroughly trusted by the confidence of its employees. His salary was $1,800 a year.

Congressman Dodder Wedded.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 21.—The wedding of Congressman D. Dodder and Miss Louise Dodder occurred at the First Presbyterian church in this city last evening. The bride and groom were assisted by Rev. Dr. Graham, who officiated, assisted by Rev. P. D. Doherty, father of the groom. Mrs. Dodder is a niece of Hon. D. K. Pearson, the well known Chicago philanthropist.

Senator Pugh Will Retire.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 21.—Senator James L. Pugh has positively announced that he is not a candidate for reelection to the United States senate next year. Governor Oates has announced that he is a candidate to succeed Senator Pugh, and Congressman R. H. Clarke also is a candidate. The chances seem to be in favor of the election of Governor Oates.

The King of Oyo Killed.

LAGOS, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Lagos, capital of the British colony of that name on the West African coast, states that Captain Bower, the British resident at Ibadan, has attacked and killed the king of Oyo and many of his followers, and burned their quarters. The country, the dispatch adds, is in a distracted state.

Marble statuary, statuettes, and ornaments—so delicate, so easily discolored—ought always to be cleaned with Pearline. That will bring back their snowy purity perfectly, and without the least risk of harm. Some of these soaps and other substances that are sold for washing and cleaning would simply ruin them.

So with marble mantels, slabs, tables, basins, etc. Clean them with Pearline. Then you won't see them gradually getting yellow or dingy.

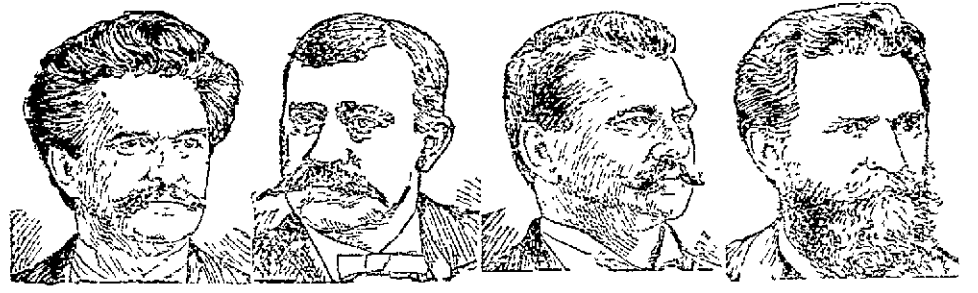

With almost everything you can wash, there's some point or other that makes Pearline's washing better, as well as easier.

Pearline will tell you "this is as good as" or "this same as" Pearline. IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled. If your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.

NESTING TIME.

Around the chimney swallows fly,
And find their busy everywhere,
The orioles go flashing by,
With bits of straw and cotton shred.

And all the builders of the air.

A MEAN ADVANTAGE.

The Idea of Colored Maps Was Stolen From a Poor Girl.

"I don't know that that is a true story," said the woman in gray, "but it was told to me as such. It happened a great many years ago when the ways and means of acquiring useful knowledge were not so easy as they are today. In geography, for instance, the maps were all one color, the different countries being simply defined by their boundary lines. There was a young girl, an artist, who thought of a clever way to change this. She digested her idea for some days and then worked it out in what she felt sure was a successful manner. Then, armed with her bundle of sample work, she made her way to what was then the largest schoolbook publishing firm in the country.

"She succeeded in getting an interview with one of the firm's representatives. Thus far and no further, however, was she destined to go. 'We never buy work from outsiders,' said the representative promptly, 'and of course we couldn't think of making an exception in your case. I'm very sorry. No doubt you have some clever ideas there, but it wouldn't be the least worth while to show them to me, for they wouldn't be of the slightest use to us. Good day.' And the young girl found herself once more in the cold, bleak world, with what she was sure was an excellent idea still unsold.

"What became of her history failed to tell us. With her idea it was different. It so happened that when the young woman had started to undo her bundle the representative had caught sight of the colored maps within. Brief as the glance was he had recognized the value of the idea, as he had also recognized that it was one that might be appropriated by any one. He therefore went at once to the head of the firm and stated the case. The firm seized upon the idea with avidity, had it carefully patented and proceeded to sell colored maps broadcast throughout the educational world. Of course they simply minted money from the scheme, and for many years did it continue to be a source of income. Pretty good, wasn't it, for an idea that 'couldn't possibly be of any use to them'?"

The Manx Shearwater.

We have still within the limits of the British Isles a few colonies remaining of a small cousin of "the largest of sea fowls"—a typical representative of the great oceanic family of the Tropicbirds—the Manx shearwater.

Driven from the island from which it takes its name, where once it bred in enormous numbers, the shearwater still congregates during the breeding season by thousands in eggs, and in smaller numbers in others of the western islands of Scotland, Ireland and Wales, and has a home on one, and one only, of the Scilly Isles, within a mile or two of the reefs of evil repute among which Queen Anne's fleet on its return from Spain, confused by continuous fogs, and believing itself far to the south off the French coast, found itself entangled with fatal results on the night of the 23d of October, 1707.

The chief part of the island is covered with shrub, which has grown on the dust of its ancestors until it has formed a light, spongy peat of its own, extending in places to several feet in depth, honeycombed, more particularly at the eastern end, with burrows.

On landing—though black-backed and herring gulls are in plenty, and the sea-side rocks are dotted with puffins and shags—there is nothing to be seen which could suggest to an explorer unacquainted that he stands in the chief English breeding place of the most powerful and graceful on the wing, and—excepting perhaps its own smaller near relative, the stormy petrel—the most potent in association of European birds. The shearwater during the nesting season is nocturnal in its habits, leaving the nest, if at all, only after sunset, and returning before daylight.—Blackwood's Magazine.

The Chicks' Mansion.

Written the magnificent country house of the late George W. Childs, is to be torn down. Such is the intention of its owner, George W. Childs Drexel, who intends to erect on its site a larger and much more magnificent structure. This was the favorite residence of the late philanthropist, and it was there that he dispensed his superb hospitality to the salt of the earth. In that house, it is safe to say, more people of renown have been entertained than in any other private residence in the United States. The house itself is a splendid creation of the architect's genius. Allied in style to the country habitations of the nobility of England, its surroundings of lawn and garden and farm are in full accord.

PRIVATE TELEPHONES.

New York Millionaires' Call Numbers Are Not Public Property.

There are some very aristocratic telephone owners in the city, but a study of the telephone directory supplied for the use of the general public does not reveal this fact. This is done purposely. It is no use getting mad if, when you ask for Mr. Croesus Vanderbilt's telephone number the girl at the other end asks if you don't know it. When you say that you don't know it or try to fool her and say you did have it, but lost the memorandum, she will answer back, "We cannot give you Mr. Croesus Vanderbilt's house unless you know the number."

The fact of it is the girl would be breaking strict rules of the company if she gave this information. There are a good many millionaires and prominent society families who have telephones in their residences, but they are for private use. Only the friends of the head of the house and a few other persons know the number. The mistress of the mansion leaves the number with her friends, and in exchange receives their numbers. She also leaves her number with the head of the hospital where she happens to be on the managing committee.

This exclusive system is adopted in order that outsiders cannot annoy Mr. Millionaire by ringing him up on the telephone. The men who have telephones put into their palaces do so with the proviso that their names and telephone numbers shall not appear in the directory.

IN A TURKISH HAREM.

There Are Women Old and Young, Tall and Wrinkled.

An account of the visit I paid to the zenana or harem of a Mohammedan nabab in a native state may not be without interest.

A carriage and mounted escort of soldiers were sent at 8 o'clock one morning to convey us to the castle. A gate in the massive walls of the compound led us into the ill kept gardens. Passing from these into the courtyard and through long colonnades and untidy passages, we were conducted finally into the zenana. A large and lofty room, with walls on three sides and a colonnade opening on to a courtyard, was the apartment in which we were received. Chairs were brought for our accommodation, but with the exception of the matting on the floor the place was without furniture.

Women, some young and tall, others old and wrinkled, passed and repassed while we waited for the begum to appear. They were all dressed in the same fashion. Flowers of light colored damask or satin clothed them from the waist. Their pantaloons were baggy above, but fitted from the knee downwards so that they have to be secured after they sit down. They are muslin and removed once a week for the bath. A short black sash just below the breast, and then round the body and over the shoulders and head it wound the sort of muslin or silk, which was again folded from the hips and tucked up. The begum kept us waiting, and we were told the reason was that she was putting on all her jewels to do us honor.

Presently she came in—a small, young woman, with an oval, immovable face and smooth, black hair. She wore tight trousers of a rich green damask and a sort of cloth of gold. On her bare ankles were anklets of metal encrusted with diamonds, said to be worth 40,000 rupees. On her arms were a large number of jeweled bangles and armlets, on her fingers rings of beautiful rubies and diamonds. Round her neck were strings of fine pearls, and suspended by studs of large diamonds to the outer rims of the ears, she wore across the hair at the back of the head pearls, emeralds and rubies, prettily set as a kind of collar. The ears were pierced in several places to allow rings and jewels to be inserted, and in the nose a small diamond was worn. The little jeweled lady did not speak English, and after we had admired her jewelry conversation soon came to an end.

Her wee baby was brought in dressed in colored silk, with a gold lace cap on its little bald head. The nabab joined us, and there was much lively chat over the subject of our visit to the state. In such a zenana the most rigorous seclusion of the wives is enforced—wives, I say, for in this zenana the begum was the chief and the only wife and was married the day after the death of the first begum.—London Queen.

TWO ELDERLY GEORGIANS.

One Married at 100 and the Other Got the Mitten at 123.

Two remarkable cases of longevity were recalled recently by a conversation between several gentlemen in this city. They were discussing the death of the Rev. George McCall, the veteran Baptist preacher, when it was authentically stated that Mr. McCall's great-grandfather lived to the ripe old age of 127 years. He was a bachelor at 100 and took a notion to get married. He carried out his idea and was married. Three sons were born to him, and he lived to see the oldest son old enough to vote.

This was considered remarkable, but a gentleman in the crowd whose character and standing, religiously and socially, are above reproach, told an authentic account of the life of his great-uncle, who was one of Georgia's pioneer citizens. This old gentleman lived to be 150 years old. He lived in a log cabin, in the northern end of which was a square hole. The old man turned the head of his bed to that hole and slept that way in the warmest and coldest weather.

His wife died when he was about 60 years old, and for many years he lived as a widower. At the age of 115 he cut an entirely new set of teeth, and at the age of 123 one morning he saddled his own horse, sprang into the saddle and to ask her to be his wife. He evidently was rejected, for he rode back that day and lived 7 years longer.—Atlanta Constitution.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

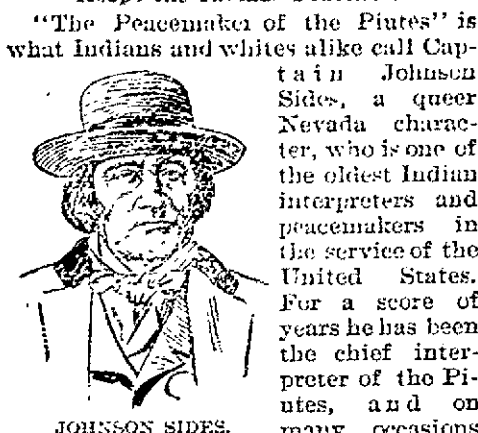

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PEACEMAKER OF THE PIUTES.

Captain Sides Preaches Temperance and Keeps the Indians Peaceable.

"The Peacemaker of the Piutes" is what Indians and whites alike call Captain Sides, a queer Nevada character, who is one of the oldest Indian interpreters and peacemakers in the service of the United States. For a score of years he has been the chief interpreter of the Piutes, and on many occasions his timely advice to the Indians has prevented the shedding of blood. "No one knows better than he that mixing Indians and firewater has much the same effect as mixing fire and gunpowder. Consequently he loses no opportunity of preaching temperance to the Piutes. He warns them against drinking whisky, against bearing their wives and against having Indian medicine men when they are sick. "If you have Indian doctors," he says sententiously, "your neck is stretched." He does not pretend to have any decided opinions as to merits or demerits of the allopathic and homeopathic schools of medicine, but he does know that the Indian medicine man is a quack of the thirty-third degree.

Captain Sides is a Piute himself, and succeeded to his present office when his brother, Captain Charles Sides, who had been peacemaker for many years in Nevada and California, went to the happy hunting grounds. During his 20 years of service Captain Johnson Sides has probably done more to prevent trouble and to civilize the Indians than any other man in the two states. Several years ago the Piutes at Obispo Creek absorbed considerable firewater, donned warpaint and feathers and began terrorizing the country.

Sides had a short powwow with the unruly red men. He told them to scrape off their war paint, throw away their whisky bottles, return to their reservation and obey the laws of the whites. His eloquence had a good effect, and the Indians quickly quieted down.

Sides believes that the Indians' only hope is to accept civilization, learn all they can and leave firewater alone. Last winter he placed 62 pupils in the Indian school at Fort Independence, and he aids the Piutes in getting work and in many other ways.

A BOY PRINCE IN TERROR.

Fanning Island Royalty Fairly Stunned by Civilization in San Francisco.

New York has been making a great deal of fuss over a duke of late, and San Francisco is now entertaining a king and a real, live prince, King Grieg and Prince George Grieg of Fanning Island. The king has left his island home in order to place the prince in a San Francisco school. There are four more children, and in the fullness of time they also will be given the advantages of a good California education, if the king succeeds in getting his salary regularly when the whistles blow Saturday nights.

Prince George is part American and part native islander. His grandfather and father both married handsome native women and George has very dark hair and a dark complexion. He has white teeth, and looks more like a sparrow than anything else. Until his arrival at San Francisco his entire life had been passed among the natives of the island, and what he did not know about the English language and American institutions would fill all the books in a large library.

Civilization was a great shock to him when he first reached San Francisco.

PRINCE GEORGE OF FANNING ISLAND.

The duke's suite hovering over the city as the steamer approached reminded him of south sea volcanoes, the hills covered with houses made him run his astonished eyes and wonder if the vision were not a dream, and the roar and rush of city life dazed him. The cable cars moving swiftly along the streets without any visible means of propulsion were terrible mysteries, the deadly trolley quite naturally excited his alarm, and the screeching, puffing locomotives—the first he had ever seen—fairly threw him into a princely panic.

King Grieg inherited from his father his domain in the Pacific south of the Hawaiian Islands, and a number of years ago John Bull, with his usual kindness, took the island in out of the wet, metaphorically speaking.

AID FOR STARVING ARMENIANS.

To be Distributed by a Commission of Missionaries and Consuls.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The civilized and Christian world is horror-stricken over the reports of the massacre of Armenian Christians by the Turks. In addition to the destruction of life, whole villages have been burned, all the property belonging to the Armenians has been destroyed or confiscated, and the survivors have been left to starve. The distress is so widespread and the number in actual need of even a crust of bread so large, that relief agencies have been established in London and New York and an appeal is made to the Christian world for aid. The New York committee is made up of a like Bishop Portier, Archbishop Corrigan, Morris K. Jessup, Rev. W. H. Furness, Jacob H. Schiff and Rev. David T. Burrill. Spencer Trask, 27 Pine street, New York, is the treasurer, and contributions forwarded to him will be distributed among the Armenian sufferers through a mixed commission of American missionaries, English consuls and others.

Noted Landscape Artist Missing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Calvert Vaux, the famous landscape architect of the park department, is missing. Mr. Vaux left his son's home in Bensonhurst, where he has been staying for some time, about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, for a short walk, and has not since been heard from. A general alarm has been sent out. Mr. Vaux is a landscape architect of national reputation. He was born and educated in London and came to this country in 1848. He designed Central Park, in this city, and Prospect Park, in Brooklyn, and was associated with Frederick Law Olmstead in laying out Riverside and Morningside parks. He also assisted in laying out the Smithsonian institute grounds in Washington. He has been in poor health for some time.

Colonel Gonzales May be Shot.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21.—The Dispatch publishes a letter from its special Cuban correspondent, who is on the field near Cumanajagua, in which he gives details of a battle at Julia, near Cienfuegos. He says the insurgents, numbering 450 well armed men, were suddenly surprised and defeated by 150 Spanish soldiers through the negligence of the insurgent commander, Colonel Jose Gonzales, who failed to mount any guards for the protection of his camp. The insurgents incontinently fled, save only forty-two infantrymen, who kept the Spanish in check for an hour, thus saving the rest of their forces from slaughter. The retreat of the infantry was later made in good order. The Cuban forces here swear vengeance upon Colonel Gonzales, and he will probably be shot.

Fugitive Cashier Captured.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Charles H. Stuckey, former cashier of the State bank of this city, and who about the middle of October disappeared, charged with taking $15,000 of the institution's money, is a prisoner at the Central police station. He was arrested by a local detective at Perley, Wis., last evening. The information upon which the young man was arrested came from a woman, Miss Fannie Nathan, a resident of Perley, who met Stuckey at a dance. Stuckey made his home at a camp a short distance from the little town, and was frequently seen about the place, where he made no attempt to hide or disguise himself. He was in the habit of taking an active part in the social events of the place, and called himself Charles Stewart.

Hayward's Death Sentence Affirmed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The supreme court yesterday affirmed its decision in the Hayward murder case, sustaining the lower court and refusing a new trial. Hayward is under sentence of death for the murder of Catherine King. The prisoner turned pale when the decision was announced to him, but would say nothing more than "it was just what I expected." He is apparently without hope. County Attorney N. A. Johnson, Governor Clough has referred the fixing of the date of execution, will name Dec. 6 as the date.

Bank Officials as Forgers.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—The more the officials of the St. Louis City bank are investigated the more ugly they appear. It is now generally believed that its president, C. B. Eide, will never return to town, and every piece of property he owned has been attached. The worst phase of the bank's failure was brought to light when it was discovered that a large number of forged notes had been uttered by the bank's officials and disposed of at a discount to banks at St. Joseph and Kansas City.

Don't Want the Duchess' Money.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Robert Harding M'ward, the Duke of Marlborough's lawyer, who represented him in New York when the marriage and settlements were signed, has written to the duke's marriage to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, stating that the rumors current as to the amount of the settlements are grossly untrue, and that the duke decided to touch a shilling of his bride's money.

Victims of the Amer's Wrath.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Evening News publishes a letter from Quetta, a small town of British India, in which the Afghan frontier, which states that the anger of Afghanistan is greatly annoyed at the failure of Nazrullah Khan, his second son, during his recent visit to England, to arrange for a permanent Afghanistane representative in London. In consequence of the rage of the emperor many persons have been burned alive, a great number of his subjects have been imprisoned, while many others have fled from the country. A notable, who accompanied Prince Nazrullah, on the occasion of his visit to England, named Kotwal, is to be tortured as soon as he arrives at Kabul. It is expected that Nazrullah Khan himself will be punished, and that possibly he will be banished from Afghanistan.

A. E. NICKINSON, Business Manager.

THURSDAY, NOV. 21, 1895.

The Sinking Fund Commission of New York city decided, yesterday, that the terminal of the Hudson River bridge must be located between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets.

Union College's burglar-student were regarded as most exemplary young men. They were diligent in their studies, regular in attendance on church and had no bad habits—except burglary.

The chivalrous Democrats of Broome county conceded the office of School Commissioner in one of the districts to Mrs. Kniskern, whose husband died shortly after his election to the office. The ungallant Republicans assessed the widow $50 to help elect the men on their ticket.

New York city with an average license fee of $200 has a drinking place for every 234 people. Chicago charges $500 for a license and has a saloon to every 242 inhabitants. Boston with a $1,500 license has a saloon to every 500 people and Philadelphia where licenses cost $1,000 has a tipping place to every $11.

The State Board of Claims at its next session will consider a novel claim, that of John Roberts, of New York, who asks for $101,838 damages for false imprisonment. He was arrested in 1877 charged with burglary, convicted and sentenced to twenty years imprisonment. After he had been in prison for twenty-one months he was pardoned by Gov. Robinson, it having been proven that he was innocent of the crime. Roberts makes his claim under an act of the last Legislature, which authorized the Board of Claims to consider his case. He asks for $75,000 for injury to reputation, pain, suffering, etc., and the balance of his claim is for loss of business while in prison and for expenses incurred in defending himself. A very liberal award would be poor compensation indeed for all the loss and humiliation Mr. Roberts has suffered because of the shocking blunder that landed him behind prison bars.

The Oriental Hotel Restaurant.
Mr. Ed. Russell, proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, has decided to conduct a restaurant business in connection with his hotel. The large centre dining room will be utilized for the purpose, and the entrance for ladies will be through the main hall. Steaks, chops, oysters, clams, etc., will be prepared by a first class cook. Particular attention will be given to supper parties.

Turt and Horse Notes.
—J. P. Sayer, the John street liv-ryman, has purchased a fine matched team of bay horses.
—Mr. B. B. Williams has sold his sorrel gelding, Frank, to a party near Sag Harbor, L. I.

Robbed by Sneak Thieves.
The residence of Eugene Browster, 264 Grand street, Newburgh, was entered by sneak thieves, last evening, while the family was at dinner and robbed of two diamond rings, a pearl and diamond pin, a gold watch and much other jewelry. No arrests.

Hospital Treatment for Ulster County's Poor.

Ulster county's Supervisors have voted to raise $500 on the towns outside of the city of Kingston, to be drawn on to pay for the treatment of poor persons from those towns in the Kingston Hospital.

Injured in Alighting from a Train.
Mr. Oscar Carr, in alighting from train 3 last evening, made a misstep in the dark and fell heavily to the ground, sustaining several bruises about the face.

Cars Will Run Late To-morrow Night.
The trolley cars will be kept running as long as necessary, to-morrow night, for the accommodation of those attending the armory ball.

"How to Cure all Skin Disease."
Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose etc., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment.

Successful operations by surgeons are reported and published to the surgeon's credit, and it is also a benefit to the public to know of his skill. In this way Dr. Jones and Potter and their ability to cure rupture have become familiar to the public. Russell House, Thursdays.

There are hard times. We hope for better. They have come for ladies who want nicely starched linen. Kingsford's Laundry never fails. It requires no boiling. 8946t

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP AN OIL MAGAZINE.

Many Lives Imperilled at Jerome Park Reservoir.
Two attempts were made, Tuesday night, to blow up the oil magazine at the new reservoir in Jerome Park and the lives of 400 persons were imperilled. Drake & Stratton, the contractors for the reservoir, recently discharged a number of men whom they could not work to advantage during the winter. There was much ill feeling against the men kept at work. They slept near the magazine and it is supposed that the explosions were the work of some of the more reckless of the discharged employes, who planned the destruction of those retained on the job.

CALVERT VAUX'S BODY FOUND.

A WEDDING GIFT FROM BERLIN.

An Aunt of Mrs. Bertha Wolf-Barnett sends Her a Beautiful Bridal Gift.
Mr. Charles Wolff received, to-day, from his sister, Mrs. Henriette Nordermeyer, of Berlin, Germany, a wedding present for his daughter, Bertha, Mrs. Leo Barnett.

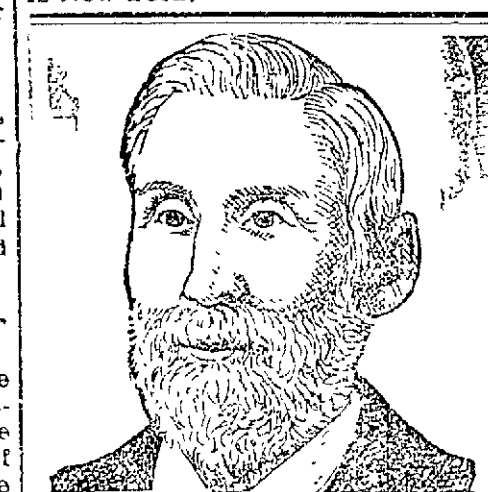

The present consists of three pieces, one a solid silver card receiver, at least a foot high, mounted with gold, with figures of Venus and Cupid in the finest quality of Dresden china as the standard.

The other pieces are handsome plaques of Dresden china, representing a shepherd and shepherdess. The figures are surrounded by solid silver frames, gold mounted, and of exquisite design.

A beautiful gold bracelet, set with diamonds, a present to Mr. Wolff's granddaughter, Miss Samuels, of Fort Jervis, was also received.

Onions Plentiful and Cheap.

The onion crop this year is immense and naturally the price is very low. This of course is unsatisfactory to the growers, but the consumers laugh while the growers weep. The price at retail is thirty five cents a bushel for first class tear bulbs. Less than five years ago the price was $5 per barrel at wholesale in New York.

For the Aged

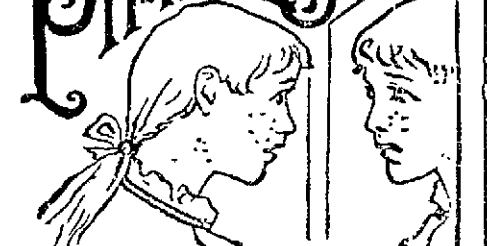

Hood's Sarsaparilla is of great value. It oils up the machinery of life. "I had chronic diarrhoea and rheumatism, was very weak and dizzy. I was perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which has given tone and health to the digestive organs and imparted strength and vitality to my whole system." GEORGE HANDY, Carleton, N. Y. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure Indigestion, constipation, etc. Price 25c.

Ruckien's Anker-Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents a box. For sale by McMonagle & Rogers.

The market is full of cough mixtures, but one trouble with most of them is that when they do a little good the patient has to take so much that he gets to loath the taste. The Pineola Balm is superior to other cough remedies because it is agreeable to the palate and its good effects are immediate. In a few days an ordinary cough is gone altogether. Bronchitis and asthma are more stubborn, but they too are cured by Ely's Pineola Balm. A remedy worth trying. Twenty-five cents is all it cost.

Pimples, blotches, blackheads, red, rough, and oily skin, prevented by Cuticura Soap, the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet and nursery. The only preventive of pimples, because the only preventive of inflammation of the pores.

Sold throughout the world. Branch depots: F. Newell & Son, 11, Kane Edw. St., London, E.C. 4; Davis & Clark, 10, St. Paul St., Boston, U. S. A.

THE SO-CALLED BEVELED BRICK.

Such a Bad Lot That Inspector Bastian Stopped the Work of Laying Them.

Although the fire alarm failed to herald the news, as promised by Inspector Bastian, two more carloads of brick arrived in town, last night, for O. R. Bros. One carload, plain brick, was laid on East Main street.

The other car was alleged to be beveled brick for paving between the rails. They were rough, ragged, warped, twisted, humpbacked, bulged,—a bad lot generally—everything but beveled. After twenty feet on the Academy avenue curve had been laid with the monstrosities, Inspector Bastian interfered and stopped the work.

Just what he and the Orr Bros. think of Catskill brick, to-day, would not look well in print.

Thanksgiving Feast for Poor Boys.

Simon King, proprietor of a street lunch wagon in Poughkeepsie, announces that on Thanksgiving Day he will give frankfurters, sandwiches, turkey, coffee and chocolate to the poor little boys of the city. He was a poor boy himself and knows what it is to be hungry in the midst of plenty.

The Erie Consents to the Completion of the Summit Avenue Bridge.

It is reported, this afternoon, that the Erie officials have withdrawn their objections to the construction of the bridge across the tracks at Summit avenue. This being the case the bridge will be completed without further delay and the Traction Company's line to the State Hospital finished as soon as possible.

A HEAVY FINE IMPOSED.

George Dougherty Pays $25 for Assaulting Superintendent Urban.

Superintendent Urban, of the Car-tion Company, was on one of the cars of the Goshen line, Sunday evening, when a boisterous gang of young fellows boarded the car at Mechan-ictown. One of the young men, George Dougherty, made himself particularly obnoxious to the rest of the passengers, and was cautioned twice by the conductor. When the car reached Benton avenue the young fellow continued to use indecent language when Mr. Urban requested him to leave the car. A scuffle ensued, in which Dougherty struck the superintendent. The latter caused his arrest, this morning, and upon the young man's plea of guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct, the Recorder fined him $25, with the alternative of spending twenty-five days in Goshen jail. The fine was paid.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

Disguises—English "As She Is Wrote"

From a Special Correspondent

—Frank Howell and family have taken rooms for the winter at the St.
Elmo Hotel.

—Herman Cuddeback, of Buffalo, spent a few days, last week, with his sister, Mrs. Joseph Merritt, at her home in this village.

—The ladies of St. James' Guild will meet to sew, on Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Charles Myers, on Church street.

—That he who does his duty quietly and uncomplainingly is much to be admired, is a fact that goes without saying, but how often duty takes the form of a great, ugly bogey, which people thrust forward and behind which they take refuge, when they wish to make themselves especially objectionable. Who has not heard, with a shudder, from the lips of some friend or acquaintance, the familiar phrase, "I feel it my duty to tell you," and has not wished before the communication was ended and his worst fears realized, that his friend had been a trifler, less consensuous? If we may believe the word of some of our acquaintances, ill natured remarks are repeated from a sense of duty. Duty invariably stands at the elbow of the writer of anonymous letters, and guides his pen and inspires his words. Poor, much abused duty, she is made to masquerade under many disguises, none of them very attractive ones.

—Next to lovers, probably school girls are the most given to writing to each other. The writer recently picked up in her school room the following note:

DEAR F:—Are you going to ride
your pony horseback this afternoon?
Write to me often. Yours, A

Now this was indited by one small child to another, who sat next to her every day and whom she often saw out of school, but when she was seized with a desire to know whether her friend intended riding her "pony horseback" she was moved to write the question, chiefly no doubt because she had been forbidden to waste her time in that manner. It is clear that Mary, who refused to allow her lamb to follow her to school, just because "it was against the rule," was either an impossible child or else she did young before she had a chance to be an example. If the teacher of to-day was to forbid the admission of lambs, except on business, at the end of five days her school-room would be a sheepfold, and none of the innocent-eyed cherubs under her instruction would admit that they even knew a lamb when they saw one. G. H.

row morning at 9 o'clock.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

GOSHEN'S WATER SUPPLY.

A Taxpayer of That Village Grumbles at the Expenditure of Money for Water That the People Do Not Get.

FORTY-SEVEN YEARS.—The Goshen correspondent of the Times had quite a long letter in that paper of the 15th inst. in which he says the Goshenites ought to be and are very thankful for their fresh supply of pure and clean water, of which many of them were in much need, etc., etc. He winds up with the consolation that those so long deprived of water won't have to pay for it.

That, Mr. Editor, must be consolation indeed. The correspondent forgets to tell Goshenites of the glorious consolation they will have when they are taxed and called on to pay for the willful and useless waste of money by our enterprising village fathers during these last two months.
And what for? That's the rub. Not satisfied with wasting thousands of dollars, on "windmills," etc., which could never furnish water for a farmer's dairy, they are throwing money away at present just as recklessly as ever. And what have the Goshen taxpayers to be proud of?

We first got an engine that could only pump enough water to supply a small dairy of cattle. But not one painful of fresh water has your correspondent yet seen. And from practical observation, unless Divine Providence lends its aid, the enormous amount of money spent is to all intents and purposes, thrown away. First our engine was not of sufficient power to pump the water and when we procured another, of more force mind you, there was no water to pump. And yet, we are told we ought to be thankful for our fine, fresh supply of pure, clear water.

What are we going to do about it?
Simply nothing, but when called on, foot the bill. The few last rains have done a great deal for us in furnishing many with sorely needed supplies of water, caught in every kind of vessel, for which in reality, the Goshen people have a true and real cause for thankfulness, and not for what they never had.

"Say, 'Hipe,'" said an acquaintance, yesterday, "do you know we're in for a blizzard, a regular old nor'wester, with snow and all that kind of thing?" "No I don't know it," replied "Hipe." "Those weather ships you're bankin' on miss it as many times as they hit it.
But blizzards or no blizzards, I've got a ton of coal in the cellar and a barrel of flour in the cupboard, and I don't care a damn."

impression and will undoubtedly be greeted with big houses this time as the organization is better in every respect than it was last season.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with Aurorelin. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." The Lover's Leap.

Some place it has been remarked before, that it is a mighty poor summer resort that possesses no cliff or precipice named "The Lover's Leap." With a legend relating thereto, Mushamusha, although a distinctly modern place, with all the latest improvements in sanitary plumbing, etc. (see circular), is not behind in this respect. It is true that the surrounding country is flat, but then the legend is so weird and romantic that it fully compensates for the trifling lack of a precipice.

Listen to the soul stirring tale as I had it from the lips of the venerable chief, Sas-tie-tan.

Long, long before the foot of the white landgrabber had gobbled up the fair domain of his red brother, Eatan-yings-soff-nuff loved the beautiful Prairie-scavener, and his love was returned. A noble hunter and warrior was Eatan-yings-soff-nuff. No one in all the tribes of the Vermilion-cheyers could capture at one grab so many of the nimble grass-hoppers as he; no one equaled him in the skill and audacity with which he tracked and slew the wily and ferocious muskrat. To see and describe the charms of Prairie-scavener would require all the blindness of love and the pen of a political editor; suffice it here to say that she was just as good as she was beautiful.

So their love grew until Eatan-yings-soff-nuff, feeling that life without Prairie-scavener was like a summer without grasshoppers—barren and profitless, rose and went to her father and said: "I'll give you ten ponies for Prairie-scavener." For Eatan-yings-soff-nuff was cunning and cunning the love that filled his heart, lest the old man should demand more than his stock.

Then the old chief folded his arms across his battle-scarred bosom, as though hugging himself, and answered: "To the young and strong belong the fierce delights of war. I am old and long for repose. Take her mother with you and you can have her for nothing, and I'll throw in my blessing."

And, not noticing the ferocious twinkle in the old fox's eye, Eatan-yings-soff-nuff jumped at the chance. This is the legend of "The Lover's Leap."—Truth.

A Substitute.

Martha is four years old and has just begun her religious education in the infant class of an up town Sunday school. It is a custom of the teacher of this particular infant class to give each of her small pupils a card containing a short text which the child is expected to memorize during the week. In passing them out she charged each of the children to be sure to keep them carefully and return them the next Sunday, that they might be passed on to others.

Martha is not a very careful little girl and though fully impressed with the duty of returning the card she neglected to put it in a place of safety, and even before she had reached home she discovered that she had lost it. The thought worried her considerably at first, until a bright idea came into her head, and, strange to relate, she said there all the week. She said nothing to her mother about the lost card, and the next Sunday went off to Sunday school happy as usual. The lost card was not troubling her innocent little conscience.

The infant class assembled and the teacher called on the children to return their card. When it came Martha's turn, she arose and said timidly: "I am very sorry, but I have my card before I got home. I have brought one of my own which papa gave me to play with. It is much bigger and prettier than the one I lost." And she placed it with the rest.

The young woman who was teaching the infant class stared in mute astonishment, while several ungenerous adults in different parts of the classroom bit their lips to keep from laughing.

The card which little Martha had tendered was a somewhat dilapidated quest of hearts.—Buffalo Express.

Enforcing the Bargain.

The green servant girl, who make strange and not always laudable blunders, is not found exclusively in American households. The European journal abounds with incidents illustrating the difficulties of adapting girls reared in the country, or in the slums of cities, to the domestic arrangement of better to do people.

A French journal records that a lady of Paris who had taken into her employ a young country girl—had to her.

"Marie, I will give you 300 francs a year and dress you."

The next morning after the girl's entry into her service the lady, on awaking rang for her domestic. There was no response.

"She rang again, and the girl did not appear. Then the lady went to the girl's room and found her still in bed.

"Marie," she said, "when I rang for you, why did you not come?"

"Oh, I loved you," said the girl, "but it was a part of the agreement that you should dress me, and I was waiting for you to come and do it."—Youth's Companion.

A Candid Friend.

A friend of Mr. X. has recently married a very wealthy but very stout widow. Soon after he had returned from the bridal trip and had taken up his residence in Bedford, he gave a house warming. Among the guests who enjoyed his hospitality was Mr. Y. After making a tour of the house he repaired to the dining room, to congratulate his host, who stood smiling by the side of his generously proportioned spouse.

"Fine house, George," began Mr. X.

"Glad you like it."

"Superb grounds."

"Do you think so?"

"Oh, yes. And magnificent view."

"We are both pleased with it."

"That carriage is beautiful."

"Gifts from friends."

"Pictures look like old masters."

"Several of them are."

Mr. X. could no longer restrain his enthusiasm.

"By thunder, George," he said confidentially, "you have married a fat thing!"—Boston Budget.

An Appeal.

Oh, her name, that heated thief, That stole my heart to you! Her name, that stole my heart to you! And she has stolen that you do.

You took from me my tender heart, Though it could I no profit bring: Now I am left a little part, I have no heart for anything.

You robbed me of my beautiful sleep, To me the night no more brings rest, Your haunting dream and me sweep Wherever my troubled pillow's pressed.

You stole my appetite away, Alas! I can no longer eat, The dining hours that sweetened day Have lost the charm that made them sweet.

Give back, give back all these again, And you I will forever love, For me to live with none were vain, While you can surely live with less.

Or if a part you wish to keep, I yield perfume unto your night: So hold you then my heart and keep, But, oh, return my appetite!
